AS UNIQUE,
as our GUESTS.

THE STORY

After successfully establishing La Valise in Mexico City, hotelier Yves Naman searched for a property in the colonial city of San Miguel de Allende that had long enamored him. In 2017, he discovered an oasis on a pedestrian-only cobblestone street in the city's center, adorned solely with Pedro Friedberg's artwork on the existing structure. "We could not believe the scale of the art and uniqueness of the property, and we instantly knew this property was the right one for La Valise," says Yves.

The project spanned more than five years, starting when Naman established his company, Namron Hospitality, and subsequently opened five new hotels in Tulum. La Valise San Miguel has been thoughtfully designed by Naman and decorated by Roberto Ayala, our Head of Design, who boasts an eclectic taste that resonates with the brand. The space features six suites, branching off from the courtyard and leading toward the rooftop, offering guests a chance to revel in the beauty of San Miguel de Allende.

Since 2022, La Valise San Miguel has proudly been a part of Small Luxury Hotels of the World, further enhancing its reputation for luxury and excellence.

THE PROPERTY

Nestled within the vibrant streets of San Miguel de Allende, La Valise unveils an oasis of tranquility concealed behind a captivating colonial facade. Step through the hotel's contemporary circular entrance, and a world of timeless elegance unfolds before you. At the heart of La Valise, a serene courtyard awaits, adorned with cascading plants, tranquil pools, and captivating art installations by Pedro Friedeberg. Each of the 6 magnificent suites surrounding the patio exudes its own unique charm, featuring bespoke artwork and SPA-inspired bathrooms. Our hotel is a testament to art and design, evoking the ambiance of a curated gallery. The seamless integration of design, culture, and the surrounding natural environment transforms La Valise into a true masterpiece.

DESIGN

La Valise's polychromatic spaces highlight the uniqueness of Mexican craft and Aztec symbolism, further decorated with an ensemble of contrasting modern accents and thoughtful bulbous fixtures. The distinct shapes unite the post-romantic marriage of styles in an alcove of past and present.

Each space feels like a cabinet of curiosities or as though you're stepping into Wes Anderson's wildest dreams. Each space unveils an array of design decisions and objets d'art as if one would bring them in their suitcase from all the corners of the world. Thus each room creates the artful, cozy ambiance of a meticulously designed home.
